

Announcement from Mike Beck, Operations Manager, WNOR-WAFX-WJOI

Since Labor Day last year, as a result of budget cuts, Mike Arlo has been pulling “double duty” on the Fox, covering the morning show in addition to his long running midday program. That’s seven hours a day on the air, in addition to the many hours he puts in off the air.

Starting next week, after the holiday, we’re cutting Arlo a break and letting him sleep-in for a couple of hours.

Arlo is turning over the reins of the Fox More Music Morning Show to Sonja Morrell, the same person that replaced him at FM99 some 13 years ago! Sonja takes over mornings at the Fox on Tuesday, May 26th. The Fox will also add a news person, to be announced next week.

The midday show on FM99 will be hosted by Shelley, who will also continue to do news for Tommy and Rumble. Shelley’s show will be an extension of the Tommy and Rumble show, with 100% more music than those knuckleheads play.

The new line up for The Fox:

6-10	Sonja
10-3	Mike Arlo
